

Centre for Studies in Religion and Society
2010 Community Seminar

Writing and Religion: A Literary Forum

photo: Rob Skelly

Four renowned Canadian writers address the place of religion, spirituality and contemplative practice in literature and the writing life.

Featuring:

Don Domanski Poet and winner of the Governor General's Award for Poetry

Anne Michaels Poet, novelist and author of the internationally acclaimed Fugitive Pieces

Alissa York Novelist and winner of the Journey Prize and the Bronwen Wallace Award for fiction

Jan Zwicky Poet, essayist, philosopher and winner of the Governor General's Award for Poetry

Thursday, November 4, 2010
University of Victoria
Orion Lecture
A reading by Don Domanski
All Our Wonder Unavenged
7pm
Fine Arts Bldg, Rm 103

Saturday, November 6, 2010
*Writing and Religion:
A Literary Forum*
Readings and discussion
9am – 4pm
David Lam Auditorium

Free and open to the public.
Seating is limited. Advance registration required for the Saturday program. For full details visit www.csr.s.uvic.ca/events or call 250-721-6325.

Thanks to our sponsors

UVic Faculty of Fine Arts

UVic Department of Writing

UVic Faculty of Humanities

Canada Council for the Arts

University of Victoria

Centre for Studies in Religion & Society

Canada Council for the Arts

Conseil des Arts du Canada